

Young Writers Guild of Sudbury

Want to learn about poetry, script writing, short stories or even writing songs?

What is the Young Writers Guild of Sudbury?

- Find out how to enter contests, get published, self-publish and edit writing
- Discover how to address and read aloud to a crowd
- Learn to host an event like a poetry slam
- Pick up tips and tricks and all the ins and outs of the writing craft from some of the most prolific and talented writers' from right here in Sudbury.

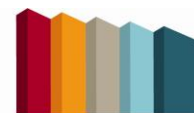

The Young Writers' Guild is a group of young people, ages 12 to 18, who meet monthly to share their common interest in all aspects of writing.

Imagine entering university with a portfolio of published work and the confidence to reach your goals. We have the tools and connections, we only need you. So come check it out, get involved and help create the kind of writing environment you want for yourself and the city.

Sundays @ 1 PM - Main Library (74 Mackenzie Street, Sudbury)
October 26, November 30, January 25

Contact the Greater Sudbury Poet Laureate, Tom Leduc, for more information:
tom.leduc@greatersudbury.ca or 705-673-1155 x4761.

Words. Ideas. Inspiration.
Get connected.

GREATER SUDBURY PUBLIC LIBRARY
BIBLIOTHÈQUE PUBLIQUE
DU GRAND SUDBURY